

QUESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION

1. What does “attitude” mean?
2. How important is attitude?
3. Can attitudes be masked? Can they be masked well?
4. How are attitudes, good or bad, developed?
Can they be changed once they are engraved within?
6. What is fervent charity and how does it manifest itself among believers?
7. What were some of Christ’s attitudes?

SUMMARY:

Our attitudes determine how we react to the situations around us. Christ was determined that God would receive the glory for everything He did. As we follow His life here on earth, we find how—with this attitude—He turned incident after incident to a lesson, which served to teach the way of God. It has been said that if we expect to lose, we shall, and the man who wins is the man who believed that he could. Should this also not apply to our victory in Christ?

NOTES:

[SoF:6] We believe that all are sinners and lost, awaiting the judgment of God, but God is not willing that any should be lost.

QUARTERLY THEME: The First Church Officers

TOPIC: CHRISTIAN DEVELOPMENT

INTRODUCTION:

In this particular text, the Apostle Peter describes what has happened, what can happen and what ought to happen in the life of a believer. The believer has escaped corruption through the saving blood of Jesus Christ. Having sinned—and the Bible teaches that all have sinned and come short of the glory of God—the sinner alienated himself from God making it impossible for the righteous God to have fellowship with the unrighteous sinner. However, through the sacrifice of His life on the cross, Christ made it possible for everyone to be again reconciled to God.

Having escaped, the believer can either take advantage of the provisions that God has made for a continuing walk or he can choose to be “shortsighted” or “nearsighted”, again falling into the corruption of the world. This is what can happen through a refusal to “see”. It does not, however, have to happen as evidenced by the remaining verses.

Believers can have “normal” vision and add to the faith that first allowed them to come in repentance to the Father. Thus doing, we have the promise of God’s Word that we can be fruitful and that our election is sure in Christ.

But we need to continue to operate in this knowledge. Peter mentions the word “remembrance” three times in the last four verses. He continued to remind, not concerned that the words would bore. Lord, remind us!

CENTRAL TRUTH: God’s desire and purpose for believers is that they mature spiritually.

GOLDEN TEXT: WHEREBY ARE GIVEN UNTO US EXCEEDING GREAT AND PRECIOUS PROMISES: THAT BY THESE YE MIGHT BE PARTAKERS OF THE DIVINE NATURE, HAVING ESCAPED THE CORRUPTION THAT IS IN THE WORLD THROUGH LUST.

2 Peter 1:4

As members of the human race, we are inclined to be somewhat arbitrary at times. That is to say, we take actions for which we cannot explain a reason. For no apparent reason we respond in certain ways. This is not so with God. He has a reason and a good one for everything that He does or says. The promises, of which God’s Word is full, were and are given for a definite reason. Here we are given the reason that we might be partakers of the divine nature of Christ. We are also told in Isaiah 55 that God’s Word will not return to Him void or without accomplishing His purposes. This, when applied to the promises which we are given, would indicate that they will either make us partakers of the divine nature or they will charge us with accountability if we ignore them. Coming in contact with the righteous God through His Word will never leave us the same as we were before the contact. It is up to us whether we profit or lose from it. Whether or not we can account for all our actions now, we will account for them in eternity.
